

Now

With F.M.L.

George Nigh knows. The Oklahoma humorist knows.

"I couldn't care less whether you are a member of this Chamber," he told an annual Cameron Chamber audience the other night. "Or whether you pay your dues."

For if that is all you do once a year, he said in effect, you are not a member anyway.

"It must be a part of your heart and mind," he said, "if you are really doing something."

It was a bit of hard truth amidst a clever presentation of Will Rogers - like putdowns on every type of person and politician in the room. And Nigh, the lieutenant-governor of Oklahoma in his third term included himself.

"I'm the only governor who served nine days and had to make a State of the State speech," he said. "But is there anybody in the room who's been governor for more than nine days?"

He made his point.

NOW-NOW-NOW

Financial uncertainties in Dallas finally compelled a decision not to bring the Dallas Symphony to Cameron March 27 for a third consecutive year.

Costs are up for the orchestra at home and on the road. Ultimate support from grants and schools was forthcoming, but it seemed a bit much with the Orchestra's status financially awash at this juncture.

I personally thank those who have given and assured continued support for a project once considered beyond a town Cameron's size. It wasn't.

The orchestra's appearance by all standards was becoming popular. It had convinced the leaders and directors of Texas Commission on Arts and Humanities to grant one of, if not the largest one-day awards for any non-metro community in Texas. Alcoa Foundation continued to be generous. Schools were anticipating another afternoon performance for students, prior to an evening performance.

But there will be other years for Cameron, hopefully in this class of the arts.

NOW-NOW-NOW

I remember a sort of cynicism about Cameron a half dozen or so years ago. And that is one reason a shot like a major symphony here seemed in order.

After the first performance one particularly travelled individual finally acknowledged that Cameron was becoming a focal point beyond the usual, the expected, the predictable. Events have a way of changing minds.

Believing what you want to is easy and popular, but believing in yourself is most difficult.

Denying cynicism is perhaps the most difficult thing for an experienced human being.

That's why a guy like George Nigh or Will Rogers is important and beyond that, wise.

As for NOW, he gets a good laugh in the bathroom mirror every morning.

AWARD WINNER - Jack Chubb, Yoe High principal, was presented the McCullin Civic Award at the Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Yoe High Principal Wins Civic Award

Jack Chubb, Yoe High School principal, was named McCullin Award winner Thursday night after Oklahoma Lt. Gov. George Nigh invoked a few Will Rogersisms in a witty after-dinner speech.

Nigh spoke to about 350 Chamber officers, directors, wives, and guests from cities across metropolitan central Texas at the 40th annual Cameron Chamber banquet.

Chubb is a popular CISD school administrator, youth worker, sports officiator and member of Cameron Lions Club and other civic organizations.

Presentation was by Ed Laywell, 1972 McCullin Award winner.

Nigh punctured human pomposities in the Rogers style by kidding politicians, police chief, chamber officers and himself about their names, religion and ethnic differences.

He was introduced by outgoing Chamber president Gene Blake, who invited the speaker and a number of Ponca City, Okla., visitors.

Incoming president L. W. Stroup presented Blake with a plaque for services during the Chamber year. And first vice-president William Kelm welcomed the group. Second vice president is Billy McCutchen.

Nigh also urged the audience to do more than join organizations like the Cameron Chamber and attend a banquet once a year. He urged them to put their "heart and head" into whatever they do.

Nigh kidded himself about being the only nine-day governor in Oklahoma history. He filled an unexpired term and has served three terms as Oklahoma lieutenant-governor.

Incoming directors include McCutchen, Derwood Cobb, Douglas Buck, Bill Dase, Charles McGregor and James Hudson.

Community Band Meeting Called

Efforts to organize a community type band will continue at a meeting on Thursday, March 21 at the Yoe Band Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone who plays or has ever played a band instrument is invited to attend and bring an instrument, if possible.

There has been a great deal of interest expressed locally for forming such a band as a means of relaxation and also for reviving some musical abilities.

Plans are to include several types and levels of selections and some arrangements will be discussed to acquire needed instruments.

Aluminum Demand Expected To Grow

Aluminum Company of America, which produces more of its metal in Texas than any other state, announced in its 1973 shareholder's annual report that company-conducted studies and customer plans "give a clear indication" that aluminum demand will continue to grow.

The outlook underlies broad actions being taken by the company "to try to insure adequate future aluminum supplies and to improve return on shareholders' equity," said John D. Harper, board chairman and chief executive officer, and W. H. Krome George, president and chief operating officer.

"Foremost among our actions are those taken to make more efficient use of limited and costly energy and materials. We have committed top technical and management personnel and major financial resources to energy conservation efforts that already have achieved significant savings."

The report cites specific advances that save energy, including:

-- Alcoa is innovative flash calcining process, which reduces the fuel required for alumina calcination by as much as 40 percent below that used in conventional plants.

-- The Alcoa Smelting Process, developed over 15 years at a cost of $25,000,000, produces aluminum with 30 percent less energy than today's most efficient smelting units. It is being used for the first time in the initial phase of a smelter being constructed in Anderson County, Texas, with ultimate rated capacity of 300,000 tons of aluminum a year, this action making Texas the biggest aluminum producing state in the nation.

-- Expansion of scrap processing capacity at Warrick (Ind.) Operations to more than 100,000 tons a year.

County Needs More Rain

Seaton, Rogers Seek School Consolidation

Petitions signed by school patrons in Rogers and Seaton are seeking consolidation of the two schools. The Bell County Commissioners Court will consider the petitions for an election.

The two petitions requesting a consolidation election are the result of a petition presented to the Bell County School Board Jan. 2 requesting Seaton school be directly annexed to the Rogers school district. That petition was denied at the trustees Feb. 7 meeting.

The Jan. 2 petition, signed by several parents of Seaton elementary students transferring to Rogers, was prompted by a Tyler federal district court ruling that school transfer students may not upset the racial balance of either the sending or receiving districts by more than 1 percent.

Shortly after the ruling, the Rogers school superintendent was told by the Texas Education Agency that the court's transfer ruling would be strictly enforced and that nearly all students transferring to Rogers schools will be forced to return to their parent district.

Seaton has 16 elementary school students that transfer to other schools that will be affected by the ruling. Most of these students attend Rogers schools and would have to return to Seaton school in the fall.

Charlie Martin Named To Head Milano Schools

Charlie R. Martin, 46, a native of Milano and former coach, teacher and administrator in Rockdale, has been hired as superintendent of Milano public schools effective in July.

Martin is a Milano High School graduate and holds bachelors and masters degrees from Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos. He taught school and coached basketball at Milano while a SWT student and later went to Rockdale as head basketball coach.

He later moved into administration, serving as elementary principal and later principal at Rockdale High School before moving to El Campo in 1964. He served several years as principal in the El Campo school district and is now coordinating principal of that district's elementary schools.

His wife is the former Joyce Wise of Milano. They have three children.

Rains ranging from .4 to one-half inches may help get some grain sorghum up in the county, but more is needed if crops are to make a good start.

The rain fell Thursday and Thursday night, with a total of .45 inch in Cameron. More rain was predicted for Friday but it did not materialize.

The last good rains fell in January, which racked up a total of 2.44 for the month. But only .64 inch fell in February and March was dry until Thursday.

County Agent Bill McCutchen said some grain sorghum is up to a good stand, but spots needed moisture to come up, and the Thursday rains will probably be enough to bring that up. He said it would also help clovers and pastures for a while, but a good rain is needed there, too.

He added that some of the land is in good shape, but land that was worked late or fertilized late now needs moisture, "enough to melt the clouds."

Home gardens that are being planted in the unseasonably warm weather could also use more moisture, McCutchen said.

Small Boy Dies In Rockdale Fire

Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. in Rockdale for a four-year-old boy who died in a mobile home fire about 11 a.m. Wednesday in Rockdale.

He was Stacy Eugene Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oates. He was found dead in a bedroom of the mobile home in a mobile home park off US Highway 79 after fire almost destroyed the structure.

His mother and a two-year-old brother, Kent Allen, escaped the blaze. Mrs. Oates received a minor burn on one hand. Her husband, an Alcoa employee, was at work at the time of the fire.

Justice of the Peace Leonard Allen ruled death by asphyxiation. Fire chief Johnny Weed said firemen fought the blaze for about an hour but did not determine the cause of the fire.

Funeral was held at Phillips and Luckey Funeral Home.

Patrol Reports 1974 Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eleven accidents on highways in Milam County during February, according to Sgt. Fred Hurst, patrol supervisor of this area.

The eleven accidents resulted in one death and eight injuries for the month of February.

This makes a total of 31 accidents with one death and 12 injured in Milam County during 1974.

Area Roundup

Bomb Scare Empties School

ROCKDALE

Rockdale High School students were evacuated from the school building for a period of about 20 minutes Tuesday morning after the school office received a telephone call that a bomb was "set to go off in a locker in 10 minutes." Police and school officials quickly searched all lockers while students were evacuated. No bomb was found. School secretary Mrs. Ruth Whitmire, who received the call, said the caller sounded like a young adult. Police are continuing investigations.

Rosebud-Lott Coach Resigns

Rodney Hudson, Rosebud-Lott football coach and athletic director, has resigned to accept a similar position with the Athens School. He will take over his new post this month. He goes from a Class AA to a Class AAA school. Hudson first came to Rosebud in 1960 as assistant coach and was called back in 1967 as head coach. He has led his teams to at least five district championships, twice to quarter finals, and once to the state finals.

TI Wants No Competition

WACO

Texas International Airlines president warned that if a commuter-type airline comes to Waco it would be just a matter of time before Texas International pulled out. Addressing a reception audience at Chamber of Commerce headquarters, the president said sharing the Waco market with a third-level air carrier would lead to a dilution of the market, make it economically unsound for Texas International to continue service here.

Senior Citizens Get Tax Break

BELTON

Belton residents 65 years of age and over are getting a city tax break. Effective Jan. 1, 1974, they may take a $3,000 homestead tax exemption on the city tax roll. The city finance officer said that about 351 pieces of property are involved, and that the tax loss to the city will be around $16,000.

City Studies Bond Program

GEORGETOWN

A proposed $1,100,000 bond program is being studied by the city council. The program is divided into sections; $700,000 in revenue bonds and $400,000 general obligation bonds. The revenue bonds are for upgrading the city's utilities to be financed by an increase in sewer, garbage, and water rates. The other bonds are for a new sub fire station, completion of the urban renewal

Bank Officials Resign

HEARNE

The board of directors of First State Bank have accepted the resignations of Jerry Kuehler as president and Adrian Richter, formerly of Cameron, vice president. Last week Tommy Mayfield resigned as bank director after selling his stock to Dr. James Thompson and associates of College Station. Ken Henderson, officer in charge of the bank, said the bank was reported in good shape following a routine investigation by both state bank examiners and FDIC examiners last week.

PLANTING TREES on the mall was hastened on a bit by Urban Renewal Office secretary Mrs. Margaret Lehnert, right, and Manuel Hernandez, city employee. The trees went into the ground in time for the late-week rain to help them along.

Oil Spigot On...

Off again, that is, on again the Mideast oil spigot is supposed to spurt crude into U.S.-bound tankers.

Only Syria raises a question after other Arab ministers agreed the embargo since October, 1973, should be lifted . . . at current higher prices, of course.

The Arabs first raised barrel prices after the embargo and only wishful thinking could conceive of oil or gas at retail ever being the same. Gasoline prices have been rising since the embargo began, some a bit before. It was said limited supply was the reason.

Arabs conned their 53 percent of the world's supply and arbitrarily raised prices because they knew this country, for one, was not exercising energy options. Now, we are.

In a few years, the U. S. will be producing more oil from this side of the Atlantic or Persian Gulf in Alaska, off shore and perhaps South America, not to mention developing alternative power like nuclear, solar or thermal potential.

This is probably why Arab oil nations agree at all that the U. S. should be unembargoed, other than the fact that things went better in the recent Israeli-Arab War and that internal affairs in Israel are not as stable as before the war. We'll get the oil, but in perhaps five years, we won't need as much.

We should concern ourselves with persia, the Mideast oil-industrial balance of power and dismiss Lybian and Syrian dissidents riding a crest of infrequent Arab unity.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

'CHEAP SHOT' AT AIR FORCE BOOMERANGS

Rep. M. J. Davis (S.C.) . . . I do not believe a newspaper, even a major daily like the Washington Post, has the right to publish a sensational charge and then ignore the fact that it does not check out the truth. The following article by Col. R.D. Heintz, Jr., a writer with the Detroit News more than bears out this belief. I offer it now for you and my colleagues." (Excerpts follow):

Washington.—The kind of bum rap the armed forces are accustomed to getting from the media could hardly be more forcefully exemplified than in a recent case of journalistic malpractice involving the Washington Post and the U.S. Air Force.

In a Page One story, the Post alleged that authorities at Charleston Air Force Base in South Carolina had secretly buried "thousands of dollars worth" of costly gear in the base dump and a nearby pond to fool a team of visiting inspectors.

Picking up the cry, the Los Angeles Times editorialized; "Punishment is in Order . . . The best way to stop this needless waste would be to start punishing the officers who gave the orders."

For four days sleuths and inspectors took sworn testimony from every known source. Marshalling an array of earth-moving equipment, they dug and sifted the entire dump and even drained the pond. The dump and pond proved barren.

One party who did not get a fair shake on the Post's expose was the taxpayer. Gen. Moelzer glumly put the total cost at $100,000.

On the part of the U.S. Air Force, a proud and competent service victimized by the Post's cheap shot, it is worse than incalculable; it is unforgivable.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

We quote Henderson from CBS-News, "We simply couldn't back up the Post story." Henderson said afterward that gave him problems with New York, which insisted to the end that if it was Page One Washington Post it had to be so.

When inaccurate reporting by the Washington Post is exposed by the Detroit News . . . that's news.

Palestinian Commandos Face Tough Dilemma

By Hugo Anson

BEIRUT
Reuter - The Palestinian commando movement is facing the toughest dilemma in its nine year history.

It is riven with deep differences of opinion among its members over goals and methods.

This comes at a time when the future fate of the three million Palestinians starkly confronts their leaders, as two Arab States, Egypt and Jordan, have already talked to Israel at the Geneva peace conference following last October's fourth Arab-Israeli war.

The two deceptively simple questions which have so far eluded a common answer are: What exactly do the Palestinians want, and what is the best way of getting it?

The majority view within the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), the umbrella body for the main commando groups, is to accept a Palestinian national authority on the west bank of the river Jordan and the narrow Gaza Strip, occupied by Israel during the 1967 Middle East war.

Shafik Al-Hout, director-general of the PLO's office here, said: "A Palestinian authority on part of our territory means a hell of a lot. I don't think it is a 'must' to keep our people in exile until we liberate all Palestine."

"A West bank state is better than a camp," Hout said, in a reference to the fate of 1,500,000 Palestinians, Moslem and Christian, who have lived in refugee camps since Israel was created in 1948.

"It is also better than letting it fall into the hands of King Hussein (of Jordan)," Hout said. Jordan annexed the west bank of the river in the wake of the first Arab-Israeli conflict in 1948.

But however popular this view is, one of the most active splinter groups in the organization, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP), has come out equally clearly against settling for anything less than a new nation in all of pre-1948 Palestine.

Bassam Abu Sharif, spokesman of the Marxist-orientated PFLP, which carried out the two recent guerrilla attacks in Singapore and Kuwait, said that if the PLO agreed to attend the Geneva Middle East peace conference when it resumes, the PFLP would push for new leadership.

The PFLP, headed by Dr. George Habash, said it would concentrate on finding a new chief for the whole movement, replacing present commando leader Yasser Arafat, to back continued and increased fighting against Israel.

The group said it categorically rejected both the Geneva conference and the "freak Palestinian state" proposed for the west bank and the Gaza Strip.

The fundamental differences over the goals of the Palestinian movement is mirrored in the equally basic disagreement over ways of achieving its aims.

Tubing

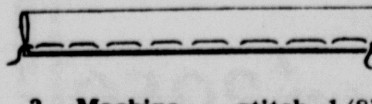

For loops, decoration, lingerie straps, etc.

Corded tubing is used for Chinese ball buttons and for loops, decoration, etc. when a raised effect is desired.

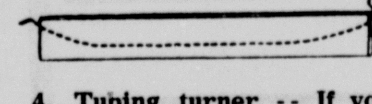

1. Cut a strip of bias 1-1/2" wide and 3" to 4" longer than desired length. Press flat, pulling strip. This is to remove the stretch.

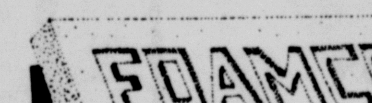

2. Fold lengthwise through center, right sides together. Pin or baste with a very loose stitch.

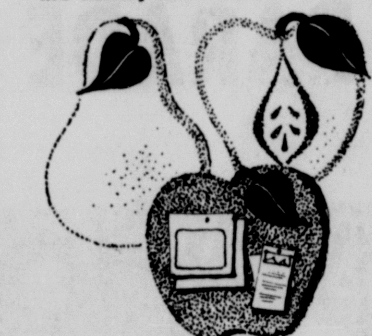

3. Machine - stitch 1/8" from fold for fabrics such as sheers or lightweight silks and rayons, up to 1/4" from fold for wools and heavier silks, etc. Pull slightly while stitching. Make a funnel at both ends as shown. Trim seam allowance to 1/8".

4. Tubing turner -- If you use a commercial tubing turner as pictured above, slip turner into tubing. Attach hook to far end. Pull turner

Outline the areas with a narrow braid, burlap, ribbon, string or any other cord that you may have around the house.

Cut the floral spray from colored felt or paper and glue to the top. (See picture.) You can use flowers cut from gift wrap or gift cards as a trim.

Cut the grocery list words from ads, or letter them yourself on heavy white paper, using a felt tip pen. Use bright colored push pins or toothpicks to mark the grocery items needed.

Fabric Fashion 74

Penney's Manager, Dan Long has supplied us with this little Fashion Fabric Newsletter.

The look for Spring 1974 is refined and romantic. Clothes are pretty and feminine. Fabrics are soft and lightweight. The important fashion points this season... the dress, the suit, the skirt.

Fashion Highlights for Spring:
The New Dresses -- very soft and on the move

- * the wrap -- newest when cut with wide sleeves and easy tent shape.
- * the blouse -- softly bloused at waist or hip with flared or bias skirt.
- * the shirtdress -- a continuing classic, softened with gathers, dropped shoulders, and bias, pleated or godet skirt.
- * the "housedress" of 30's and 40's -- slim skirted in floral prints; strictly for fun.

The Non-Suits -- so unconstructed that they barely look like suits.

- * cardigan and dirndl skirt with softly tied blouse.
- * near-tent jacket wrapped over straight skirt.
- * short sleeved jacket over tank top and dirndl skirt.
- * wrap top and wrap skirt with soft silk shirt.
- * knitted cardigan and vest with straight skirt.

The Skirt -- most are knee length, but some are longer

- * soft dirndl -- the newest full shape.
- * straight -- with front or back kick pleat.
- * pleat and bias -- continuing classics
- * Big Skirts -- best when full, tiny waisted, and worn with a snug little top. Length varies from top of the calf to a little above the ankle. Shown by both French and American designers... especially for young juniors and fashion conscious women.

Big Tops -- loose and full, many with dropped shoulders or large dolman sleeves.

* relaxed big-jacket, buttoned or wrapped over skirt pants or even a slinky slip dress.

* blouse with big full top over slim skirt.

* flaring tent top over blouse with oversized notch collar and deep cut sleeves.

* chiffon evening dress with fly-away top.

Romantic chiffons -- always soft and feminine

* ruffled, layered, or pleated in plain or printed florals.

* scooped or bare necklines, often framed with ruffles or soft capelet effect.

* bias swirl ankle length skirt, inspired by Vionnet

* usually ankle length, though a few are short.

Evening Clothes -- inspired by nightgowns, slips, bed jackets and pajamas

* lingerie - type fabric -- jersey, crepe, crepe-backed satin, chiffon... and lots of filmy lace trim.

* bare necklines -- scooped, wide V's, drawstring, lingerie straps.

* loose, full pajamas with long sleeves, high neckline and flowing pants -- a fresh alternative to bare dresses.

Body Dresses -- long or short, with just the right amount of cling.

* slinky matte jersey, often with soft cowl neckline.

* T-shirt style in soft stretch fabric.

* strapless tube or one shouldered jersey.

* draped bodice or gathered yoke and long torso

Cameron Teams Seeing Action

The Cameron Yoemen volleyball, baseball, and track teams are all well into their seasons, and play in all three sports will continue this week.

The girls volleyball team, coached by Pat Short, will play their most important game of the season Thursday afternoon at 4:15 p.m. at Yoe Gym against the Belton Tigers. The winner of the game will be the North Zone champion.

The two teams have met earlier in the season, and the Tigers came out on top. The Yoe girls fell to the Tigers 15-7 in the first match, and 15-4 in the second.

The volleyball team owns a 9-4 season record. They have victories over Killeen (2), Lampasas (2), Rockdale, Temple B, Salado, McGregor, and Rosebud - Lott.

The team has lost to Caldwell, Temple, and Belton (2).

The Yoe baseball team will be playing Killeen in a doubleheader in Cameron on Monday at 3 & 5 p.m. The Yoe baseballers, coached by Jon Forsythe, have compiled a 2-2 season record.

They lost to Rockdale 4-2 in the season opener at Yoe Field, and then avenged their loss days later in Rockdale by a similar 4-2 score.

Cameron's last game was a doubleheader with the Temple Wildcats Tuesday in Cameron.

Cameron won the first game 9-4, but the Wildcats pounced back to take the second by a 13-6 score.

The Yoemen have another doubleheader in Brenham after the one with Killeen, then they play two games with Taylor and a tournament in Georgetown before district play begins.

The district opener will be on April at Yoe Field against the Lampasas Badgers.

The Cameron Yoemen track team, coached by Nelson Huffman and Max Graham, are now competing in the 39th running of the Yoe Relays. Press time will not allow us to have the results in this edition of the Herald, but all the results will be in the next.

So far the Yoemen have placed fourth in both meets that they have competed in - Taylor's Cotton Bowl Relays and the Rockdale Relays.

As in the first two meets, the Yoemen will rely heavily on the running ability of Yoe sprinters Willie Bell and Lorenzo Majors, and on the long distance running of Mike Patzke.

Majors has ran the 100 yard dash in 10.3 and has captured 2nd and 4th in the two meets. Bell runs his 220 yard dash in 23.6, and it has been good enough to win 1st place in the Taylor meet and 3rd place in Rockdale's.

Patzke has ran his 880 in 2:03.3 and possibly could break the 2 minute mark later in the season.

Next the Yoemen will meet the Belton Tigers in Cameron on Thursday, March 21 at 4:15 p.m. This game will determine the zone champion.

WORKING HARD: Yoemen work out on the new gym set that has been purchased by the Yoe Booster Club. The set is a 16 station

Legal Notice-

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT

The Texas Highway Department offered an opportunity for a public hearing to be requested by publication on November 1 and 8, 1973. The notice reported the proposed construction of Farm to Market Road 3242 from Farm to Market Road 2095 at Hanover, northeast to the end of Farm to Market Road 3242, 3.9 miles northwest of Gause. The proposed improvement will pass through the community of Hanover. No requests for a public hearing were received; therefore, the Residency Office of the Texas Highway Department at Hearne, Texas, has submitted all of the engineering data and information received in connection with the development of this project for approval of the proposed route and design by the District Office of the Texas Highway Department at Bryan, Texas.

The proposed design provides for a two-lane highway following along the present county road on partial relocation with a minimum right of way width of 100 feet, with additional right of way width up to 150 feet required where necessary to accommodate cut and fill slopes.

Maps and other drawings showing the proposed location and geometric design, environmental studies, and any other information about the proposed project are on file and available for inspection and copying at the Resident Engineer's Office at the Texas Highway Department, Highway 6 North P. O. Box 506, Hearne, Texas 77859. Also, the drawings showing the proposed geometric design have been placed on file with the Milam County Judge in Cameron, Texas. Information about the State's Relocation Assistance Program, the benefits and services for displaced, and the relocation assistance office, as well as information about the tentative schedules for acquisition of right of way and construction can be obtained at the Resident Engineer's Office.
